THE RIO ARRIVED AT ONE THIS MORNING.

Was Reported After Daylight and Captain Ward Says Honolulu is Slow. A Storm Prediction.

The City of Rio Jeneiro showed up off port at about one o'clock this morning and at daylight was standing close in Captain Ward thought that Honolulu was getting very slow, when pilot Cameron boarded the vessel this morning and told him he had just been reported six miles out. The Rio's lateness was due to slow traveling and bad weather. She did not encounter any such severe storm as has been experienced here, though she had a quite heavy sea behind her most of the way. Captain Ward ought to have repute as a weather prophet, for he smelt Honolulu's storm when a store in thonolulu can't dispute: This is the only store in Honolulu that sells ready-to-wear clothing exclusively. We MUST have variety and sizes to fit you, because we have no (big profit) made-to-order department to fail back on.

We have two stores—each filled to other stores in Honolulu use more than one store for sale purposes.

We buy every stitch of our own goods for spot cash. We certainly ought to own our goods at bottom figures, and we only grow bigger by selling that way.

Nothing is too good for our trade, Suits this season as fine as cloth can be woven—up to $25.00.

This motito trules the business. If you buy it here and it goes wrong, it is made right and our brother clothing exas has been experienced here, though she had a quite heavy sea behind her most of the way. Captain Ward ought to have repute as a weather prophet, for he smelt Honolulu's storm when a thousand miles away. Soon after leaving Yokohama he remarked that Hore thousand miles away. Soon after leaving Yokohama he remarked that Honolulu was probably baving a very hard storm. That was just about when the severe storm began. This is one of the longest distance weather prophecies on record.

The Rio had a difficult task entering the healer this morning. A squall came the harbor this morning. A squall came up just as she was ready to enter and the rain was so heavy that it was impossible to see far ahead of the vessel. The Warrimoo was sighted just as the Rio came in.

"Honolulu seems to be getting very ow," said Captain Ward after he had arrived. We were off port at about one o'clock last night and I steamed down by Diamond Head quite close in This morning I came slowly back to the harbor channel and got a pilot."

The Rio brought 350 tons of freight for Honolulu. She will leave late in the night for San Francisco.

The Light that Never Fails It seems almost incredible that any lamp could be good enough to take the place of electricity on even terms, yet such is the case with the ANGLE LAMP. All over the Islands people are throwing away their old lamps and replacing them with this lamp, not merely because it costs about one-tenth as much to maintain (cost is no object to some people) but besides being infinitely cheaper it is more brilliant and more reliable in the bargain. It is a revelution to every one who was it and simply deconstructed that the class. revelation to every one who uses it, and simply demonstrates that the old-fashioned lamp was a barbarous contrivance.
